What You Did Exceptionally Well

- Perfect multiple choice score! 20/20 - absolutely brilliant!
- Strong practical HTML skills - you can write and fix HTML code confidently
- Excellent understanding of HTML structure and syntax
- Great attention to detail in most areas

Areas to Polish

Section A - Multiple Choice (20/20)

PERFECT SCORE! You got every single question right - this shows excellent knowledge of HTML fundamentals!

Section B - Code Correction (12/15)

Great work! You're very good at spotting and fixing HTML errors: - Question 11: Perfect! You correctly added the missing `<h1>` tag - Question 12:

You used `</P>` instead of `` - remember HTML tags are case-sensitive - Question 13: Perfect! You added a descriptive alt attribute - Question 14: Perfect! You added appropriate link text - Question 15: Your HTML structure had an extra `<body>` tag at the beginning - needs refinement

Section C - Practical Tasks (22/25)

Excellent practical skills! You're writing HTML like a pro: - Question 16: Perfect structure! Just used `<Body>` instead of `<body>` - remember lowercase for HTML tags - Question 17: Great list and images! You included 5 list items when asked for exactly 2 - just follow the instructions precisely - Question 18: Used `<H1>` instead of `<h1>` - same case sensitivity issue. Good comments and formatting!

Section D - Short Answer (8/10)

Good understanding! You're thinking about the concepts: - Question 19: Your answer was good but could explain more about how DOCTYPE helps browsers render pages - Question 20: Great explanation! Could add specific examples of when to use each list type - Question 21: Excellent answer! Clear and comprehensive

Next Steps to Excellence

1. HTML case sensitivity: Remember that HTML tags should be lowercase
2. Follow instructions precisely: Pay attention to specific requirements (like exactly 2 list items)
3. Expand your explanations: Add more detail to your short answer responses
4. Review HTML standards: Ensure consistent use of proper tag formatting
